

Fireline Named Honoree in Baltimore Business Journal's Family-Owned Business Awards

BALTIMORE, Md. (March 31, 2023) – Fireline Corporation has been recognized by the Baltimore Business Journal for its longevity and contributions as a family business in the Baltimore area. The Baltimore Business Journal recognized 14 businesses in their annual Family-Owned Business awards.

Fireline President and owner Anna Gavin accepted the award on March 30th at the Martin's Valley Mansion in Cockeysville. "Baltimore is built on family businesses, it is important to our growth in the business world and theBBJ recognizes this," says Gavin. "As a third generation business I am fully aware how unique it is to make it this long. We work hard to continue to provide high quality fire protection services to the Baltimore community and it is nice to reflect on our contributions up to this point."

About The Fireline Corporation

The Fireline Corporation was founded in 1947 by John S. Waters as one of the first companies in the nation to specialize in the fire equipment distribution and service business. Now one of the largest portables and special systems distributors in the country with more than 170 employees, Fireline is headquartered in Baltimore and operates an office in Leesburg, Va. Instrumental in the development of the industry nationally, John Waters helped to create the National Association of Fire Equipment Distributors (NAFED) and was elected as the organization's third president in 1965; his son Stephen, Fireline's president from 1982 to 2009, served as NAFED president from 1985 to 1987. Fireline is also a member of the Fire Suppression Systems Association (FSSA), the American Society of Safety Engineers (ASSE) and the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA).
